WCT Engineering Bhd has been awarded a RM720 million deal by the Transport Ministry to upgrade the Kota Kinabalu International Airport.

It said on April 26 that the contract involves expanding the terminal building to 87,000 square metres.

The contract period was for 36 months and WCT would design, execute, and commission works in connection with the upgrading of the terminal.

WCT Engineering said the contract would have a positive impact on its earnings and net assets for the financial years ending Dec 31, 2006 to 2008.
